

Three Things That Matter

What are all the different things you spend your time doing during a week? From school to leisure to routine, try listing as many as you can below in any order, as they occur to you.

Now, try to pick out three things however big or small- that give you the most pleasure. Try to explain in a sentence or two why you think they matter to you.

